Mazars in Singapore merger announcement reveals strong growth with integration of new practice line

Mazars in Singapore is pleased to announce the expansion of their practice to include Governance, Risk and Internal Control (GRIC) services through an integration of the Business Process Risk Consulting practice of TransFingo Pte Ltd.

TransFingo Pte Ltd was formed in 2003 by a team of entrepreneurial professionals focusing on Business Process Outsourcing and Business Process Risk Consulting and it has grown significantly and presently serves a large number of multi-nationals, listed and non-listed clients across multiple sectors and locations.

The new GRIC services provide the firm the ability to advise and support its clients in Enterprise Risk Management, Internal Audit Outsourcing, Internal Audit Transformation and Policies and Procedures Management.

Headed by incoming Director Mak Chung Yee and together with incoming Director Allan Wong, Mazars welcomes the Directors and staff members based in Singapore and China. Mazars in Singapore Managing Partner, Denis Usher says the firm is pursuing a growth strategy that will facilitate enhanced and extended service capabilities for its clients in Singapore and the region.

“Chung Yee and her team will add much experience and expertise to our existing firm. This integration will see Mazars strengthen and consolidate its service offerings and expertise and enhance the firm as a serious challenger in Singapore. We welcome the new Directors and staff to the Mazars family and know the additional expertise and resources will help Mazars be more competitive, offering clients a wider choice when choosing professional services firms for audit, tax or advisory work”

Mak Chung Yee, Director & Head of Governance, Risk and Internal Controls, added: “I am extremely excited that we have been accepted as the latest addition to the Mazars family. The merger is not only a testimonial and recognition to our 11 successful years in building a sound risk consulting practice, it is also very much an integration of professionals who share the same values, cultures and vision for the future. Our team has found a perfect fit with Mazars and look forward to providing our clients access to the best advice and service made available through the integrated Mazars business model.”
